

Career Guide schools' network

The Career Guide schools' network consisted of about fifty schools or educational institutes at the moment. All these schools or educational institutes will implement all the research activities of the working groups and then via an evaluation procedure, the best practices will be proposed as a useful guideline for career guidance. In the framework of the network's creation, the first career guide magazine will be published in the November of 2006 and will be sent to all network members.
